Product Description:

The Academy 1/32 Sopwith Camel F-1 is a plastic aircraft model kit of perhaps the best allied fighter of WW I. Its victory tally was 1,924 aircraft shot down in only sixteen months of fighting. The Camel was an Aces Mount which was extremely agile and had a fast rate of climb. In a controversial air battle in 1918 the great Baron Von Richthofen fell to the guns of a 209 Squadron RAF Camel flown by Canadian Roy Brown. Total production was 5,490 aircraft between 1917 and 1918. Famous Allied fighter of WW I. Detailed cockpit interior & engine compartment. Authentic decals included.
