Product Description:

The Academy 1/150 Diving U-Boat w/motor is a plastic model kit in the Academy Ships Plastic Model range. Larger than the numerically superior Type VII subs, the XIA and XIB Types had greater range, were faster and carried a larger crew. They were also slower in diving and were regarded as a wetter boat, thus gaining the nickname Seekuh which translates to Sea Cow. Nevertheless, the Type XIB subs accounted for the sinking of a greater tonnage per boat than any other type of German sub in World War II. Features: 1/150 scale plastic kit can be built as a static display model or a motorized, diving submarine. Maroon, black and light blue plastic pieces are attached to sprue trees. It has finely detailed molding of hull and deck, Detailed conning tower. Realistic cannons for the deck and Includes lead weights for the hull. An RE-280 motor with wiring is included. Transfer-type decals are included to decorate the submarine. Detailed pictorial instructions. INCLUDES: One 1/150 Scale Diving German Navy U-Boat IXB Plastic Model Kit.
