Product Description:

The Exoto Williams-Renault FW14B is a diecast model in 1/18 scale. Williams and Renault worked long and hard to find a World Championship winning combination. With Nigel Mansell behind the wheel, 1992 would prove a dream season in which he eclipsed several records! The Williams-Renault FW14B was the best F1 weapon to date. The Renault RS4 V-10 engine produced something like 760bhp at over 14,000rpm! The mere 1,113 lb. chassis utilized the most advanced active suspension system ever deployed on a race car, and power was delivered through a semi-automatic gearbox capable of gear changes in three-hundredths of a second. Exoto has proudly retraced the footsteps of F1 engineers, designing the ultimate replica of the ultimate Grand Prix car of its time and then following a rigorous program of refining every minute detail. The FW14B sets a new standard for furious detail in our Grand Prix Classics collection. From the lustrous paint finish to the precisely replicated front wing and rear undertray diffusers, this new F1 Champion will command your full attention like no other. Every conceivable facet of this remarkably compact Championship contender has been precisely scaled. The FW14B is our first F1 die cast with removable wheels revealing lovely replica composite brake discs that turn within fixed calipers. The suspension geometry, function and complex hydraulic plumbing have all been meticulously recreated. Our new race-scrubbed rubberlike Goodyear tires even deform ever so slightly under the weight of the car. Manufacturer: Exoto Model: E97111 Williams-Renault FW14B Scale: 1/18
