Product Description:

The Morris Mini Cooper is a new release for 2008. In 1958 the Mini rapidly took shape around Alec Issigonis's concept. Leaps of engineering imagination were performed including the placement of the gearbox under the engine, front-wheel drive with the power unit mounted transversely, and rubber cone suspension designed by rubber expert Alex Moulton. The Mini soon became a car beloved by the ordinary man as well as the racing world. Although, as a race car, the Mini was not the quickest, in terms of straight-line speed, on the track it was certainly the car that would gain a big advantage through twisty parts of a circuit or rally stage. This scalextric car features working lights front and rear, magnatraction and easyfit guide plates. Manufacturer: Scalextric Model: C2919 Morris Mini Cooper
